

Little Talkers

Are you concerned about your child's speech and language?

If the answer is yes, then our Little Talkers groups could be a good starting point for you and your child.

Little Talkers can help by:

- Developing children's speech, language, and communication by sharing positive interactions strategies with parents/carers.
- Adopting a family learning approach - parent/carer and child to attend together.
- Supporting children and families who are about to start in a school-based nursery provision.

If you want to find out more about Little Talkers, and see if it is the right programme for you and your child:
